

Crazy For Rhythm

Words & Music: Inga Rumpf

I was born by the riverside
Down by the sea
The wind and the waves
Were so good for me

All I had was a sounding voice
For an endless song
The waves made the rhythm
When I sang with the storm

And when the ships were passing by
The flags went up and down
They heard the singing of the crazy kid
For miles around

I'm crazy for rhythm
Crazy for life
Crazy for you, babe
When you hold me tight

I'm crazy forever
Yeah, I feel so free
I'm so in love
So happy to be

I had to go to work downtown
Make some dough somehow
The bread was so hard
By the sweat of my brow

Better poor than a slave
With a lash at my back
I cried a river
No, I won't go back

And when the ships are passing by
The flags go up and down
They hear the singing of the crazy kid
For miles around
