

Perfect Love

Words & Music: Inga Rumpf
Copyright Control

Once in my life I thought I made it
Got some money, a nice car and a home
I had a love, so uncomplicated
Yeah, that man had a heart like a dome

I should have known better – he was out
He left me crying so loud
I should have known better, this big feeling
Turned into a sad, sad deal

Perfect love, perfect love
Now I'm in heaven without stars
Perfect love, perfect love
But I know how deep love feels
Ain't that enough, ain't that enough

I was so happy when he bought me a ring
And our wedding followed soon
We fell asleep with kisses but then I woke up
I saw him lying down in our bedroom

I should have known better – over and out
He left me here crying so loud
I should have known better, this big feeling
Turned into a sad, sad deal

Perfect love, perfect love
Now I'm in heaven without stars
Perfect love, perfect love
But I know how deep love feels
Ain't that enough, ain't that enough

In this part of life when the lights go down
No one can imagine how you feel
I'm getting old and grey while he stays young in my mind
I call him names for leaving me