

Toothbrush

Words & Music: Inga Rumpf
Copyright Control

It's nothing but the old, old story
Between a woman and a man
Our souls and our bodies were so close together
That I never thought about an end

One morning I woke up and he wasn't by my side
I had no bad thoughts about this man
He said: "I've gotta leave this place, 'cause I found out tonight
The whole world lies in my hand"

I said:
Watch out, baby, now, look at me now
You know where you belong
You can go your own way
And do what you want -
But baby, baby

Don't dare to take your toothbrush
That means you don't love me no more
You can take all your pills and your dirty underwear
But please, leave your toothbrush at home

Don't dare to take your toothbrush
Then I won't love you no more
You can go your own way
And do what you want - But please, leave your toothbrush at home

I don't expect to live on the sunny side with you
But your disposition is driving me mad
I call up your girlfriend to take care of you
When you've got such funny things in your head