

Transformation

Words & Music: Inga Rumpf
Copyright Control

Sometimes I wake up with a smile on my face
An ease in my heart has taken place
I feel the strain and the fight is gone
Melted like ice cubes in the sun

I see my garden loves the green
And my life wants to live a dream

Transformation
Mother nature talks to me
Transformation
Mother nature's treasury

Sometimes I'm feeling like a millionaire
Drinking clear water, breathing fresh air
Stillness around and a loving flame
Tells me that life is a big, big game

I see my garden loves pretty flowers
And my life loves happy hours

Transformation
Mother nature talks to me
Transformation
Mother nature's treasury

We're children of the universe - not less or more
Who will know what we are living for Hours like pearls are slipping away
What we've got refuses to stay